MILITARY INTERFERES

A. Carzell, a private of the 24th Infantry aboard the transport Hancock, was arrested Saturday night on the charge of malicious injury by breaking a window in the house of Nieper, the expressman. He appeared in the Police Court this forenoon with Kaulukou as his attorney.

Judge Wilcox was called upon to listen to a pitiful tale about a poor colored soldier going to Manila. The man was drunk at the time and did not know what he was doing. The attorney had been to see Mr. Nieper and he had agreed to take $5 for the damage done. The soldier had agreed to pay the amount.

In the meantime, Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth had received the following note, handed him by a second sergeant of the 24th Infantry and after he and Judge Wilcox had read it there was a very decided stiffening on their part:

U. S. A. T. Hancock,
Honolulu, H. T., Mar. 24, 1902.
The Chief of Police—Please turn recruit Carzell (colored) over to the keeper of this note.

ALBERT LAWS,
Captain, 24th Infantry.
Kaulukou asked that an officer conduct Carzell to the transport for the purpose of getting the money and Judge Wilcox replied that he did not propose to have any more police officers going to transports on such errands. They had usually been treated to a hail storm of coal and rocks by both officers and men and treated to the vilest kinds of abuse during which the man being conducted aboard made his escape and was welcomed as a conquering hero. The officers were worse than the men in their abuse. Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth coincided in this view and Kaulukou was told to go about the matter of getting his money in another way.

Judge Wilcox added that he wished it understood that the Police Court was not a collecting agency and that if he saw fit to turn the soldier loose, Nieper would have to take his chances about getting the money. A little later on, the whole thing was patched up and Carzell was freed.

The second sergeant, when he saw how things were going, tried to get back the note which is given above but Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth would not let him have it, saying it became the property of the police department upon its delivery to him.

Needless to say, the police are indignant at the note for they consider it a direct attempt on the part of the military aboard the transport Hancock to interfere with the civil authorities of the Territory.

CHINESE BECOMING WARLIKE.

Sui Yee Chin and Leong Po, partners in a jewelry firm located on Maunakea street, lost their temper Saturday afternoon and engaged in a fight out in the street, each man being armed with a piece of iron such as is used to measure rings. Chin was badly cut over the head and Po had his freshly shaved poll somewhat disfigured. Police interfered and the flow of Mongolian blood came to an end.

The Chinaman pleaded guilty in the Police Court this morning and were fined $10 and costs each. Judge Wilcox said he did not know what was getting into the Chinese of late. From a quiet and peace-loving people they were rapidly getting to be a warlike and quarrelsome set.

LAUNCH NOT RECOVERED.

The steamer Hanalei returned to port from Punaluu yesterday morning. As reported in the Bulletin on Saturday, the Hanalei lost her gasoline launch at Punaluu in twenty-five fathoms of water. Every effort was made to recover the boat but without success. The launch was worth nearly $1500. The Hanalei left Punaluu before taking a full cargo. The sea was becoming so rough that Captain Pederson thought it best to leave.

LEONG SAI TO BE DEPORTED.

was two years old with his brother and his parents; that his father is dead and his mother and one brother now live in China; that he remained there until he was twelve years old, when he returned to Honolulu; this would be in 1894 or 1895; that he stayed here until 1901, when he again went to China in July of that year, returning to Honolulu on the 19th day of January of this year, when the Collector of Customs refused to allow him to enter.

Very Much Chinese.

He testified further that he lived in this Territory from the time he was twelve years of age (in 1894 or 1895) until 1901, and yet he spoke no English, dresses like a Chinese, has every appearance of a Chinaman, and when asked by the court if he was an American or a Chinaman, said he was a Chinaman.

One Noah Kauhane, a Hawaiian native of the Islands, was called for the petitioner, and testified that he remembers the birth of the petitioner in the Islands; that the petitioner's father was a cook for the witness's father, and being absent from his duties, some time in 1882, the witness was sent to find out the reason why; that upon inquiry the cook said to him that a boy baby had been born to him; that he, witness, did not see the child; that afterwards he used to come to Honolulu with his father and he saw this boy and knew it was the same body; that in 1887, witness came to Honolulu to attend the Kamehameha School, and during that time, saw the father and child on the street. When asked by the court if this China boy was not in China from 1884 to 1894 continuously, he said in reply, "he was in Honolulu in 1887, in 1890 and in 1893, the boy that I am giving testimony about."

Contradiction of Testimony.
All of which is contradiction of the testimony of the petitioner himself who swore that he did not come back to Honolulu from China until he was twelve years old, which would be either in 1894 or 1895, if his allegation as to his birth was true.

The only other witness for petitioner was one Ah Lam, a Chinaman, who testified only that he had known petitioner as a waiter for three years prior to his departure for China in 1901.

At the time the petitioner was alleged to have been born in these Islands, the law made it a penal offense for any parent not to report for registration the birth of a child. (Sec. 8, Act of 1878, Compiled Laws of Hawaii, 1884 p. 212). It is presumed that all births of children were registered in accordance with this law. No proof of any compliance with such law was introduced on behalf of the petitioner in this case. This is a somewhat significant fact. As was said in the very recent case of United States vs. Chung Hoi, affirmed on appeal from this Court, 111 Fed. Rep. 899, the means of showing that he does not come within the restricted classes "is presumably under his own control."

The testimony of the petitioner as to his birth, founded alone upon statements made to him by his mother, and uncorroborated by any but one witness, who in all other respects absolutely contradicts the petitioner, is entirely unconvincing to this Court, who is therefore compelled to hold that he has not proven his birth in the Islands nor that he is a citizen of the United States.

It is ordered that petitioner be remanded to the custody of the Collector of Customs with directions to deport him to the country from whence he came.

ESTEE, Judge.

MARTIN COMMENDED FOR THRASHING MAN

Judge Wilcox made the remark in the Police Court the other day that when a person pokes up a hornets nest, he must expect to get stung. This applies to J. Mangana, the master-at-arms aboard the U. S. S. Iroquois, who was arrested yesterday on the charge of drunkenness and who forfeited bail in the Police Court today.

During his wanderings yesterday, he went to the home of M. C. Martin, a Portuguese living on the slopes of Punchbowl. There he waxed abusive and called Mrs. Martin a name that will make any man fight. Martin immediately threw off his coat and gave Mangana a drubbing that he will not forget very soon. The facts not being in the possession of the police, Martin was arrested on the charge of assault and battery but in the Police Court this forenoon, his case was nolle pro'd. Judge Wilcox saying:

"Well, young man, you did something that, while not strictly in accordance with the law, any man would do under the circumstances. You have a right to protect your wife and your mother. If, as they say, you gave that man a good thrashing, I am very glad and the sheriff is perfectly justified in asking that you be allowed to go free."

SANTOS THE HOODLUM.

Santos, one of the worst Portuguese hoodlums that Honolulu has at the present time, was arrested yesterday on the charge of drunkenness. As it was his third or fourth offense, Santos was fined $5 and costs. The prosecuting officer explained that the young man's mother had called at the police station and asked that her son be sent to jail. She had done for him everything in her power. A little later on, just as the court was about to adjourn, Santos demanded his release, saying that certain money which had been taken from him at the police station, when searched, was his own property. As the police were somewhat doubtful about this, a short argument arose and Santos became very impatient. He closed his mouth just in time, for Judge Wilcox was on the point of sending him below on the charge of contempt.

Leonard, the balloonist, has not been frightened from trying to perform a balloon ascension and a drop from the parachute by the fine weather which prevented him from performing at the McKinley Memorial football game on Saturday. He states it as positive that he will give the public a chance to see him navigating the balmy air of the Paradise of the Pacific even if he should have to do it for nothing. He is now waiting for a change of the weather and will perform as soon as good weather sets in. He will go up from the Punaluu grounds, as his furnace and other apparatus is now located there.

Y. M. C. A. AT BASKETBALL

The Y. M. C. A. athletes are now to tackle basket ball and preparations are being made for what promises to be a successful season.

The teams already made up are as follows: M. Johnston, R. S. Pierson, E. M. Cheatham, J. B. Gorman and W. S. Binley.

Olaf Oss, Luther Evans, Tom Evans, Paul Perreira, F. B. Lubeck and Chas. Gilliland.

Will Kerr, A. E. Lutz, A. M. Keoho, A. Blackman and Bert Heilbron.

Geo. Madeira, Caesar Gomes, J. Laing, Tom McGuire and A. McGuire.

Besides these, the Business Men may put in a team. Ben and John Clark will be the nucleus for another; and two more teams can easily be found from among the remaining enthusiasts.

Practice is being put in after class every evening and new teams can arrange with the director for regular practice hours.

The league games will start in April probably the first Saturday and teams intending to enter the league should organize as soon as possible, in order to get in plenty of team practice.

There will be a meeting of all those interested in basketball called for Wednesday evening, March 2, at 7 p. m. The purpose of the meeting will be to talk over the basketball rules for 1901-1902, and to elect, if it seems necessary, a basketball committee to arrange for the league games.

Ventura Due Wednesday.

The Ventura is due from San Francisco on Wednesday morning. Unless the transport Meade should arrive first, the Ventura will bring five days' later mail and newspaper files, sailing from San Francisco on the 20th instant.
